Boveda Risk Statement

Boveda pouches, along with those of affiliated brands of Boveda Inc., are manufactured using food-grade materials, including all-natural salts, purified water, and a food-grade thickening agent.

Based on external toxicological risk assessments, the components pose a very low risk and safety concern should the contents of products sold under the Boveda brand, or any affiliated brand of Boveda Inc., accidentally leak onto a product intended for combustion and inhalation or oral consumption.

Products impacted by a leakage should be disposed of.
